A Raisin in the Sun:

a community read

Saturday, March 6, 2010

4:30pm

Atlas Performing Arts Center

(1333 H Street NE, Washington, DC)

Free of charge

Lorraine Hansberry's A Raisin in the Sun became the first widely produced play in American theatre to examine an African-American family's experiences and the effects of racism in this country. Join the DC community in exploring this groundbreaking work. Everyone is invited to read aloud. A conversation about the play and the implications in our city will follow the read. Held in conjunction with Woolly's production of Clybourne Park, by Bruce Norris.

Presented as part of
